For the second year in a row, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners has opted to change its second in command.

The board, at its annual organizational meeting on Monday, Jan. 3, unanimously voted to appoint County Commissioner Rick Anderson as the vice-chairman for the Crawford County Board of Commissioners. Anderson is starting his eighth year serving on the board. He replaces Shelley Pinkelman, who was selected by her fellow Crawford County Board members, to serve as vice chairwoman of the board last year.

Pinkelman will continue to serve as chairwoman of the county's law enforcement committee.

Dave Stephenson was reappointed to serve as the chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners for two years.

Grayling podiatrist calls it a career

Capping off a career that has spanned over three decades, Podiatrist Dr. Carolyn Ward DiPonio is moving on to doing footwork volunteering for the community.

DiPonio retired from her practice, located at 6251 M-72 West, on Dec. 23.

DiPonio said paperwork related to the medical field and health insurance prompted her decision to move on.

"You finally reach a point where you go - that's enough of that," she said.

Podiatry includes the treatment of medical issues that involve the feet and ankles such as corns, calluses, plantar fasciitis, heel spurs, bunions, warts and ingrown toe nails.

DiPonio said she chose the profession because there is no inherent life or death consequences and the results of treatment can be seen almost immediately.

"I like this profession because you're really not dealing with life and death. That really didn't appeal to me, especially living in a small town," DiPonio. "It's a happy profession and you can usually make people very happy - quickly - and I like that." Pg. 3

Upon the death of a family member or loved one, thoughts of times together or things left unsaid linger until final closure is obtained.

Board anticipates more input on Sunday alcohol sales

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners will have a second round to consider allowing Sunday alcohol sales between 7 a.m. and noon after hearing from tavern, store owners and township officials later this month.

Rick Anderson, vice-chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, said he was questioned by owners of the North Down River Party Store, Caid's Grocery and the Lovells' Riverside Tavern as well as Lovells Township Supervisor Fred Schaibly after the county board opted to maintain status quo by prohibiting alcohol sales on Sunday mornings. The board, on Dec. 15, passed a resolution denying Sunday packaged liquor, beer and wine sale as well as serving spirits, mixed spirit drinks, beer and wine between 7 a.m. and noon on Sundays.

State legislation, which went into effect Dec. 1, opened up the times of when stores, bars and places where alcoholic drinks are served to the early Sunday morning sales. The Michigan Liquor Control Commission (LCC) gave counties, cities and townships until midnight on Dec. 15 to make a local decision on when the beverages could be purchased.

Anderson said that proprietors of the businesses that questioned the board's action had already paid $160 for the Sunday sales, but were denied permits when they applied for licenses through the LCC.

"In that vane, I would like to say that is not the point of the county commissioners of Crawford County trying to prohibit business practices in Crawford County," Anderson said.

Anderson proposed a recommendation to rescind the board's action on Monday, Jan. 3, when the board's annual organizational meeting and regular monthly meetings

Knights of Columbus obtain life-saving AED machine

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Following in the flight path of the Grayling Eagles Club, the Knights of Columbus have obtained an Automatic External Defibrillator (AED) to use at the St. Mary's Church.

Knights of Columbus member Harry Wojcik pitched the idea to purchase the AED for the St. Mary's Church in October after learning that the Grayling Eagles Club received one of the life-saving units in August.

An automated external defibrillator or AED is a portable electronic device that automatically diagnoses potentially life threatening cardiac arrhythmias or ventricular fibrillation and ventricular tachycardia in a patient, and is able to treat them through defibrillation, the application of electrical therapy which stops the arrhythmia, allowing the heart to reestablish an effective rhythm. AEDs are designed to be simple to use for layman, and the use of AEDs is taught in many first aid, first responder and basic life support (BLS) level CPR classes.

The units are aimed to be used in the golden moments, the first three minutes after someone has a heart attack, which gives them a greater chance of totally being resuscitated.

Wojcik said it's not likely that EMS units would be able to make it to the church within three minutes when there is congested traffic or snow covered, icy roads.

"There is no way - even at best - they could make it there in three minutes," he said.

The AED, which was delivered in December, will be located in the hallway between the church and the family center. Now, Wojcik said a group of Knights of Columbus and church members need to get together for training on how to use the unit.

Board anticipates more input on Sunday alcohol sales held. His motion died because of a lack of support.

"I'm just putting it out there at this point," he said. County Commissioner Scott Hanson proposed the board hold a public hearing, a time set aside during a regular county commission meeting, but that idea also died because of lack of support.

"If there's thoughts on the board on how we could possibly change this, I would prefer to do it via a public hearing to see how everybody feels about it," Hanson said.

County Administrator Paul Compo said he was questioned by Grayling Charter Township Supervisor Terry Wright and Schaibly on why no input from the local units of government was solicited before the board made its decision. Defending county officials, Compo said no response has been received on previous issues the board has solicited input from other officials. He added that the county board also faced a tight deadline before it made its decision.

County Commissioner Shelley Pinkelman said she received inquiries from Frederic Township Supervisor Bill Johnson and Maple Forest Township Clerk Sandy Baynham on why the county board did not go along with the state law to allow Sunday sales.

Ultimately, Anderson said blame over confusion of Sunday sales lies with Michigan lawmakers because it was cobbled with other regulations. Those included sales and tasting events at wine and brandy makers, store tasting events and serving alcoholic beverages at the Michigan International Speedway.

"There was a bunch in here (the state legislation) that was miss-mashed together and was just thrown out there," Anderson said. "There was a whole bunch of stuff that inhibited business practices. It just didn't make sense."

Anderson said that business owners and local officials, who have objected to the board's action, vowed to be at the board's next regular meeting at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 19 to offer their input.

State law prohibiting Sunday alcohol sale between 7 a.m. and noon went into effect in 1957, Anderson said.

Compo said that Sharon Martin, Director of the Licensing Division for the LCC, told him that the county board could rescind its resolution prohibiting Sunday alcohol sales at any time it chooses.

Dave Stephenson, chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, said lawmakers are always trying to mandate what takes place on Sundays and citizens can find ways to circumvent the regulations.

"There's ways they can work around this for themselves currently," Stephenson said.

the Burden Bears at a conference.

Since Dave Dewar took over as the director for Mercy Hospice's Bereavement program, the emphasis has been placed on making the Burden Bears out of clothing worn by lost loved one.

"It's just kind of a nice little reminder if you get thinking about them and you can pick it up, snuggle it and cuddle with it," Haag said.

Dewar informs families about the availability of the Burden Bears while paying them visits after the loved one have passed away, Haag said. In addition, Terry Lockwood, director of the Sorenson-Lockwood Funeral Home in Grayling has also requested delivery of the bears when family members are having tough times going through the initial grieving process.

Haag said the bears are particularly meaningful to families of loved ones who have gone through an extended illness or for a family member who had Alzheimer's disease. She recalled the death of a younger man, whose "Big Dog Biker" T-shirt, was made into a larger bear for his son.

"It was his dad's favorite

T-shirt and it really meant a lot for him to have the bear," Haag said.

Personally, Haag had a Burden Bear made from a housecoat worn by her mother, Martha Walrath, age, 85, who died in 2009, for family members.

Haag said the Burden Bears are also given out at Children's Fairs and Health Fairs that Mercy Hospice attends.

"Because they are small, the children kind of gravitate toward them because they're nice and soft and squeezable," she said.

Along with looking for sewers or a sewing group, who can make about a half dozen bears per month, there is also a need for donations of fiberfill and fleece for bears made for children who don't have clothing from a family member.

Hospice is mandated to serve family members for 13 months following a death. The bereavement program is not covered by Medicare or other health insurance policies.

"It's strictly donations and that's what pays for the whole program," Haag said.

In you are interested in taking part in the Burden Bears project or to make donations, you can contact Haag at 800-424-1457 or 348-4383.

"They say these things are foolproof," Wojcik said. "They talk to you and you can't put them on a healthy guy, for example, because it won't let you."

Wojcik said that Rev. James Bearss, pastor for the St. Mary's Church, supported getting a AED because there is often nurses or doctors who are attending mass that can utilize the units with a layman's assistance. The St. Mary Cathedral in Gaylord also has an AED.

"It's certainly a worthwhile investment," Wojcik said.

The AED cost $1,349 and the price was discounted with a $350 grant. The cost was split three ways between the Knights of Columbus, the St. Mary's Women's Club and the church.

The Knights of Columbus has about 100 members. It generates its money through yearly dues, a Tootsie Roll drive and by raffling off a barbecue grill annually.

All funds raised go to local charities and to support missionaries working around the world.

"One hundred percent of the money we get we give away," Wojcik said. "It's just across the board."

Wojcik became a member of the Knights of Columbus five years ago after his beloved wife, Freda, who he was married to for 53 years, passed away. Father Robert Nalley, the former pastor for the St. Mary's Church, encouraged him to get involved with the Knights of Columbus to help deal with his loneliness and sadness.

Wojcik hopes that news of the St. Mary's Church getting an AED will prompt other organizations and businesses to invest in the units.

"They should be all over restaurants and wherever you go," he said.

Grayling podiatrist calls it a career, will volunteer

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Capping off a career that has spanned over three decades, Podiatrist Dr. Carolyn Ward DiPonio is moving on to doing foot-work volunteering for the community.

DiPonio retired from her practice, located at 6251 M-72 West, on Dec. 23.

DiPonio said paperwork related to the medical field and health insurance prompted her decision to move on.

"You finally reach a point where you go - that's enough of that," she said.

Podiatry includes the treatment of medical issues that involve the feet and ankles such as corns, calluses, plantar fasciitis, heel spurs, bunions, warts and ingrown toe nails.

DiPonio said she chose the profession because there is no inherent life or death consequences and the results of treatment can be seen almost immediately.

"I like this profession because you're really not dealing with life and death. That really didn't appeal to me, especially living in a small-town," DiPonio. "It's a happy profession and you can usually make people very happy - quickly - and I like that."

DiPonio considers herself to be a traditional podiatrist with a conservative approach, making people feel comfortable with feet and ankle issues rather than opting to recommend surgery. Surgery can be an issue with podiatry problems, which are genetic bony deformities, for older patients as well as people who have diabetes.

"For every surgery you have done, there's some kind of consequence," DiPonio said. "A lot of your foot problems are inherited. People always want to blame their shoes, but it's usually genetics."

DiPonio was born and raised in Bryant, SD. She went to the South Dakota State University for her undergraduate studies.

DiPonio then went on to Illinois College of Podiatric Medicine, now the Dr.

William M. Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine, for her doctorate degree in podiatric medicine.

DiPonio did her internship at Woodward General Hospital in Detroit. She recalled being there when the Detroit Riots occurred in 1967.

DiPonio then worked under Dr. Ben Stein in Hamtramck for her residency and as an employee assisting with surgeries at Alexander Blain Hospital. Both hospitals no longer exist.

"All these hospitals kind of faded away," DiPonio said. "Hospitals have tough sledding nowadays too."

DiPonio moved to Grayling with husband, Michael DiPonio, who took over operations and ownership of a Ford dealership in the community. The business venture failed because of high inflation in the late 1970s. Michael went on to work as a CPA and he is still in business. The couple have two sons, Tony and Christopher, and grandson Cullin, 8.

DiPonio worked with podiatrist Dr. Tom Scharffe during her initial years in Grayling. She started her own practice in 1981.

DiPonio has been active with the Grayling Promotional Association (GPA) for 15 years, including two stints as chairwoman of the organization, which supports community initiatives, organizations and enrichment programs.

Currently, she is working through GPA with the City of Grayling's Department of Public Works on downtown banners which will be placed on light poles four times a year to spruce up the business district. After the Christmas decorations come down, snowmen banners will adorn the light poles downtown. She is also working with X-Press Copy Owner Connie Beard to develop banners that will be placed on the I-75 Business Loop to enhance the gateway into the community from the expressway.

"Those will stay up," DiPonio said of the banners, which will be seven feet in length. "They won't change four times a year."

DiPonio also plans on volunteering at Mercy Hospital Grayling, whether that be transporting patients, working in the gift shop or serving wherever needed.

DiPonio received several cards, well wishes and a handmade "Happy Feet" wall hanging from patients.

"I'm going to miss my patients, but I will still see them all over town," DiPonio said. "I always have."

DiPonio plans to donate much of her equipment and supplies from her practice to the AuSable Free Clinic, which serves low-income and uninsured patients.

New governor already rolling up sleeves

GOV. RICK SNYDER, Michigan's new chief of state, already has rolled up his sleeves and is hard at work to guide Michigan back to where we should be.

Of course, his sleeves have almost literally been rolled up for several months as he campaigned across the state in his own, non traditional fashion, convincing enough people that he had the goods to deliver.

For his formal inaugural, however, Gov. Snyder made one sartorial concession, sporting a bright red necktie with a traditional business suit.

According to press photos, on his first official day at work in his new office, he was back in shirt sleeves — without a necktie.

The sun smiled on the formal inaugural rites on January 1, again traditionally outdoors on the capitol steps. For New Year's Day inaugurals in Michigan, you take your chances on the weather. For new Gov. Snyder so far, everything looks bright.

GOV. SNYDER'S inaugural address was commendable from at least one aspect. It was only about 13 minutes long. Much of the content was familiar stuff, worked repeatedly during the Snyder campaign.

I did not attend the inaugural. I watched on television, and later studied the text of the speech. I was a bit surprised at the abundance of platitudes that went over better when delivered than when seen in print. Here are some:

"Our moment of opportunity ... bright future instead of a declining past ... as building blocks, we have world class assets to build upon... our natural resources, our universities, our manufacturing base, and more importantly, our people ... our legacy will be found in the future ... the underlying key to success is to change our culture stop looking in the rear view mirror and look toward the future ... stop being divisive and become inclusive ... our own worst enemy ... no magic solutions ... with problems comes opportunity ... shared sacrifice from all ... all of us working together ... government will not be the solution ... working together is the key ... all come together ... time to stop fighting among ourselves ... time to solve problems and create opportunities ... time to be bold ... stop accepting the status quo ..."

Platitudes? Or inspirational message? I guess it depends on who hears what.

ONE SECTION Gov. Snyder apparently felt important enough to include twice, using almost exact wordage:

"For the reinvention of Michigan going ahead, at a minimum, we need to commit to the four following objectives: No. 1. We will be a globally competitive leader in innovation. No. 2. We will create more and better jobs. No. 3. We will create a bright future for our young people. And finally, we will do this together and not leave some behind."

The main role of an inaugural speech is to set a tone for the incoming administration; it's not to be specific about plans or programs.

Gov. Snyder's speech seemed to reinforce the message that he already has spread across the state, which convinced voters to hire him to lead us back to our future. As his inaugural address, it was right on target.

SHARED STAGE — The governor shared the inaugural stage with many others.

Brian Calley, lieutenant governor; Ruth Johnson, secretary of state; Bill Schuette, attorney general, all were sworn into office, too, and all gave a speech, limited to about five minutes each.

Other state officials elected in November also took their oaths of office, including two justices of the Supreme Court, members of the court of appeals, the state board of education, and the governing boards of Michigan State University, Wayne State and University of Michigan. No speeches from these folks, however.

Such mass swearing-in ceremonies as part of the official governor's inaugural are rare, and perhaps unprecedented.

I've been taking note of inaugurals ever since as a reporter I first covered an inaugural in 1955 as Gov. G. Mennen Williams took the oath for his fourth term, and I don't recall any such mass "swearing ins," not to mention speeches by lesser officials. The inaugural always has been the governor's special day.

Perhaps Gov. Snyder wants to exhibit a dedication to inclusion ... or perhaps lay the groundwork to spread around the blame if things don't go as he hopes they will.

Viewpoint

By Robert Jones, Superintendent
C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District

January is School Board Recognition Month

The month of January marks the annual observance of School Board Recognition Month — a time to salute the work of school board members and celebrate public education.

The theme of this year's celebration, "School Boards LeadStrong," reflects our combined commitment to leadership and accountability, assuring that all children succeed.

In the COOR I.S.D. area, school board members must develop policies and make tough decisions on complex educational issues impacting the entire community. They bear responsibility for annual budgets, students, employees and school buildings. They are citizens whose decisions affect our children — what they learn, who will teach them and what kinds of facilities house their classrooms.

The boards of education, and the hundreds like them across the state, enable us to have local control of public schools meaning that decisions on school programming are made by local, elected representatives who understand the community's unique problems, values, culture and circumstances.

Too often we neglect to recognize the dedication and hard work of these men and women who represent us. I invite you to recognize and celebrate the work of your school trustees. The staff and students of our district are asking all members of the community to take a moment and tell a school board member "thanks for caring about our children."

So, hats off to the dedicated men and women who make it possible for local citizens to have a say about education in our communities. We salute the public school board members whose dedication and civic responsibility make local control of public schools in our community possible. We applaud them for their vision and voice to help shape a better tomorrow.

Free radon test kits available at health department

Free radon test kits are available at District Health Department #10 during the month of January in observance of National Radon Action Month. Radon is a cancer-causing gas that you can't see, smell, or taste. It is the leading cause of lung cancer among non-smokers. According to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), radon is estimated to cause more than 21,000 lung cancer deaths per year.

Radon is a radioactive gas that comes from the natural decay of the uranium found in nearly all soils. It typically moves up from the ground and into your home through cracks and other holes in the foundation. Your home may then trap the radon inside, where it can build up.

Testing is the only way to know if you and your family are at risk from radon. Easy-to-use directions are included in the test kit.

Simply place the opened kit in the lowest level of your home for several days, then seal it up and mail it to the test lab in the postage-paid envelope.

Test results will be mailed back to you, along with information about what to do if the radon levels in your home are found to be higher than what is considered safe. A variety of methods may be advised to reduce radon levels. These include sealing cracks and other openings in foundations or installing ventilation systems.

You can find more information on radon at www.epa.gov/radon or at the test kit maker's Radon Information Center at www.radon.com.

Contact the Crawford County District Health Department #10 office during January to get your free radon test kit or call 989-348-7800.

Training offered for local officials on farm market rules and regulations

Michigan State University Extension (MSUE) will be holding a training session for all local township officials entitled, Farm Market GAAMPs: Do They Conflict with Your Local Ordinances?

This program will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 9, from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Denton Township Hall, 2565 S. Gladwin Rd. (M-18), Prudenville. The cost to attend this program is $45 per person, by Feb. 1, or $65 per person at the door.

In January 2010 the Commission on Agriculture (under the Right to Farm Act) adopted a new set of Generally Accepted Agriculture and Management Practices (GAAMPs) for farm markets. This new set of GAAMPs may conflict with certain local ordinances to regulate several aspects of farm markets regardless if located at the farm or at an off-farm location.

Usually, the state-mandated GAAMP's take precedent and can cause conflicts with local ordinances and planning efforts.

MSU Extension is offering this training program on the new Farm Market GAAMP's. This program will cover a review of GAAMPs generally, the Farm Market GAAMP definitions, its treatment of farm markets including physical characteristics, marketing, buildings and/or space, driveways, parking, signs, lighting, location, products that may be processed and marketed for sale, and how this may affect certain local zoning ordinances.

To register for this program, contact the Wexford County MSU Extension office at 231-779-9480 or by email at: msue83@msu.edu. For further information about this program contact: Mr. Kurt Schindler, Wexford County MSUE at 231-779-9480 or Russell Kidd, Roscommon County MSUE at 989-275-5043.

The Bible Speaks

God's Love is Caring

Romans 12:9 taught us God's love makes us honest, not hypocritical; verse 10, God's love makes us humble, not haughty; verse 11, God's love makes us helpful, not hindering; and in verse 12, God's love makes us pleasant, patient, and prayerful. Now in Romans 12:13, God's love makes us compassionate, not covetous; hospitable, not hostile. "Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality." God teaches us in 2 Thessalonians 3:10, the responsibility for daily necessities is first individual: "10For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat." Second is family responsibility in 1 Timothy 5:8: "8But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel, personal responsibility." Third, becomes church responsibility for their own elderly, widowed saints. (Acts 6:1-4; 1 Tim. 5:11; 1 Thess 5:16; James 1:27). Fourth, comes the safety net of the government.

First, the act of compassion, "Distributing to..." Distribution is to the necessity, not desires or wishes. At the time this was written food was not always plentiful and Christ taught His disciples to pray, "Give us this day our daily bread." In the Old Testament people were paid daily to have sufficient food to feed them until the next day. God's law said in Leviticus 19:13: "13Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning." As Paul wrote in 1 Timothy 6:8: "8And having food and raiment let us be therewith content."

Second, the aim of compassion, "the necessity of saints." Distribution was primarily to widowed saints in the local church. "9Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man....11But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry." (1 Tim. 5:9,11; See also Acts 6:1-4). Gentile Churches also gave to the Jewish saints of Jerusalem who had sold all their possessions to spread the gospel to the gentiles. "26For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem. 27It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things."

Third, the attitude of compassion, "given to hospitality." Peter describes this attitude in 1 Peter 4:9: "9Use hospitality one to another without grudging." 2 Corinthians 9:6,7 adds to this thought: "6But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. 7Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver."

Dorcas was a lady known for such good works in Acts 9:36: "Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did." One of the special blessings Dorcas received was being raised from the dead by Peter because after she died, those she had helped sent for Peter to come and pray for her. Pastor "B"

Horse Liniment Erases Pain

HIALEAH, FL. — An ingredient often used to treat inflammation in racehorse legs, is now back on the market in its original doctor recommended clinical strength formula.

According to a national survey, the formula at one time became so popular that it rose to the top of pharmacy sales for topical pain relievers. But the company marketing the product at the time changed the formula and sales plummeted. One of the inventors of the original formula has brought it back under the trade name ARTH ARREST and says it can relieve pain for millions.

ARTH ARREST works by a dual mechanism whereby one ingredient relieves pain immediately, while a second ingredient seeks out and destroys the pain messenger signal before it can be sent to the brain. Considered a medical miracle by some, the ARTH ARREST formula is useful in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

ARTH ARREST is available in a convenient roll-on applicator at pharmacies without a prescription or call 1-800-339-3301. Now at:

2010: Year In Review

Happy New Year!

With 2010 at an end, the Crawford County Avalanche presents its annual Year In Review.

The Year In Review includes article summaries from stories featured in 2010 Crawford County Avalanche editions.

Article summaries are listed according to the newspaper edition date in which the story appeared.

January 07

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners sent a proposed noise ordinance to the Grayling City Council and six township boards for their input.

Seniors throughout northern Michigan threw down the proverbial gauntlet, challenging each other to Nintendo Wii bowling competitions between senior center teams. Seniors from the Cheboygan Senior Center were the first team the Grayling Senior Center Team faced. The Alpena Senior Center, Oscoda Senior Center and Roscommon Senior Center also expressed interest in forming a traveling Nintendo Wii bowling league.

From the Crawford AuSable Schools business manager to a maintenance man, the Crawford AuSable School District went through a major restructuring to save dollars. Crawford AuSable Schools Superintendent Joe Powers said staff reduction throughout the entire school district resulted in not renewing Business Manager Mike Dunckel's contract. In addition, five teachers retired from their positions and the district planned to fill only one of those positions. A maintenance employee and secretary, who worked in the administrative offices, were also not replaced.

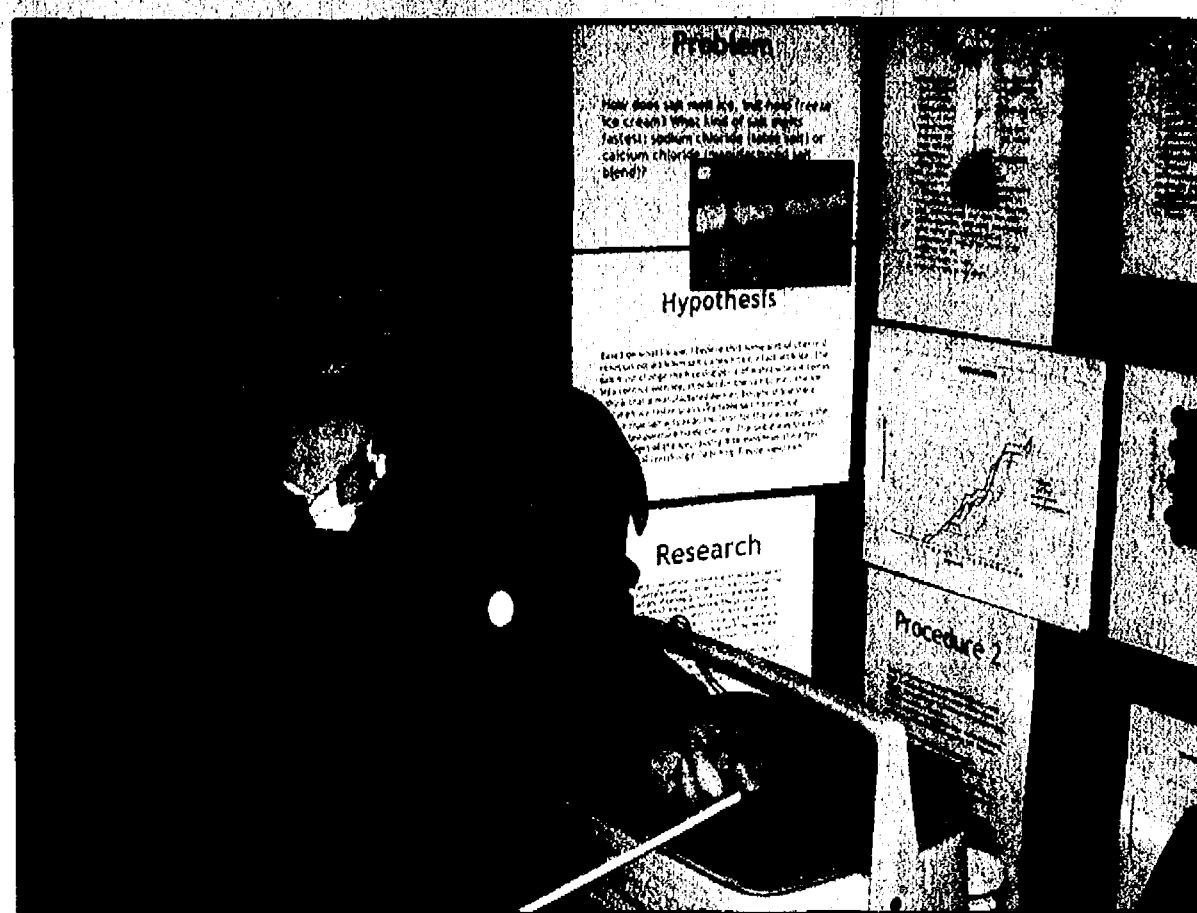

In the middle of tough economic times for Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona and Iosco counties in northeastern Michigan, the American Recovery Act brought over $3.9 million to the area in funds for the Huron Fuels Reduction Project. Buying Insurance?!
 There are so many choices and decisions.

- Where should I buy?
- What's a good price?
- How much coverage do I need?
- What types of coverage?
- Will I have enough?

It can be overwhelming.

Some companies want you to believe that the only thing you should consider is cost, but insurance is much more than just premiums. Insurance is about loyalty and teamwork and community relationships. It's about stability and consistency, and finding the right coverage at the best price.

As your local independent Auto-Owners Agent we'll look at all your insurance needs. Ask us about Safe. Sound. Secure.® protection from Auto-Owners Insurance Company.

Because coverage for what took a lifetime to build, shouldn't be decided by the latest fad.

Suspended Grayling City Manager David A. Thayer was arrested on another misdemeanor charge. Crawford County Undersheriff Shawn Krayes arrested Thayer for a charge of public officers-making false statements relating to finances, which carries up to 90 days in jail and a $500 fine. City Police Chief Doug Baum, the acting city manager, was the complaining witness for the case.

Staff at the Grayling K-Mart held an event called eggging the management to raise funds for the March of Dimes. Managers Todd Warth, Melissa Klimas and Jody Goodhue served as the targets for the egg toss, while store associates and customers threw the eggs.

Grayling resident David Myers Sr. participated in the 2010 Run for the Wall with fellow Vietnam veteran William Seeley of Higgins Lake. They rode their motorcycles to California. After traveling up and down the California coastline and visiting veterans' cemeteries, Myers and Seeley traveled from Rancho Cucamonga, Calif. with thousands of motorcyclists in the Run for the Wall to the National Mall in Washington D.C. where Vietnam Veterans' Memorial is located.

Two Grayling civic organizations teamed up with the Michigan State Police to send three high school students considering law enforcement careers to a trooper school this summer. The Kiwanis Club of Grayling sponsored a program to send one Grayling High School student to the 2010 Student Trooper Program. The American Legion Post #106 offered to send one girl and one boy to the program for potential police officers.

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners agreed to put a proposal on the Aug. 3 primary election ballot to renew the Crawford County Sheriff's Department's 24-hour road patrol millage.

City officials and planners have given the partners of the Brook Retirement Community approval to build a facility on property near Mercy Hospital Grayling.

The Grayling City Council approved a use variance for the Brook Retirement Community.

Instead of being 20 units, Bill Carey, a Grayling attorney and Brook Retirement Community partner, said the firm needed 24 units to make the project economically feasible.

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners agreed to send a letter to Gov. Jennifer M. Granholm and state lawmakers protesting the state acquiring more land while still giving itself its own tax breaks.

The Michigan Department of Community Health, in conjunction with its partners in local public health across the state, celebrated Michigan Public Health Week. The theme was "A Healthier America: One Community at a Time," and one of Grayling's own, Dr. Lisa Harrington, was honored in a special celebration at the Capitol Rotunda in Lansing. Harrington was instrumental in bringing together key community members to establish the AuSable Free Clinic in 2005 and served as the medical director. The clinic has provided quality health care for more than 12,000 low income and uninsured citizens. Dr. Harrington was one of 12 individuals to receive the prestigious Hometown Health Hero award.

Death or adoption — those are the two options that Chief Family/District Court Judge Monte J. Burmeister gave the owners of two pit bulls that have dominated the headlines in Crawford County for last year and a half. Burmeister, in a written opinion issued on April 20, ruled that pit bulls owned by Dawn and Ken Minard could not be returned to their home. "It is of the opinion of the Court they would be allowed to build upon their already demonstrated aggressive tendencies and be dangerous, or there would be a high probability of risk of serious injury or death to a person," Burmeister said of the Minards' dogs, Shelby and Riley.

NOTICE OF SHOW CAUSE HEARING AND JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE HEARING for NON-PAYMENT OF PROPERTY TAXES

On March 1, 2010, real estate with unpaid 2008 and/or prior years property taxes was forfeited to the Crawford County Treasurer pursuant to the General Property Tax Act, Public Act 206 of 1893, PA 206, MCL 211.1 to 211.157, as amended.

The Crawford County Treasurer is acting as the Foreclosing Governmental Unit in proceedings to foreclose on properties for unpaid 2008 and/or prior property taxes.

There are two hearings scheduled to finalize the foreclosure process. This publication is intended to provide additional notice to parties of interest in these parcels as to the nature, time, and location of these hearings.

A Show Cause Hearing is scheduled for 9:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. January 19, 2011 at the Office of the County Treasurer, Crawford County Building, 200 W. Michigan Ave., Grayling, MI 49738.

Any person with an interest in the property forfeited to the County Treasurer may appear at the Show Cause Hearing and redeem the property or show cause why absolute title to that property should not vest in the Foreclosing Governmental Unit.

A Judicial Foreclosure Hearing is scheduled for 8:59 A.M. February 7, 2011 at the Crawford County Building, Circuit Court Room, 200 W. Michigan Ave., Grayling, MI 49738.

At this hearing the Foreclosing Governmental unit shall ask that the court enter a judgment foreclosing property as requested in the petition for foreclosure. A person claiming an interest in a parcel of property set forth in the petition for foreclosure, who desires to contest that petition, must file written objections with the clerk of the 46th Circuit Court, and serve those objections on the Crawford County Treasurer as the Foreclosing Governmental Unit. The Docket number for the Petition is 10-8157-CZ.

If you are a person with an interest in property being foreclosed:

- You have the right to redeem this parcel from the foreclosure process by payment of all forfeited unpaid taxes, interest, penalties, and fees prior to the expiration of the redemption period. You should contact the Crawford County Treasurer for the amount required to redeem.
- You may lose your interest in the property as a result of the foreclosure proceeding.
- The title to the property shall vest absolutely in the Foreclosing Governmental Unit unless all forfeited unpaid delinquent taxes, interest, penalties and fees are paid by March 31, 2011.

PLEASE NOTE:

The following list represents parties that appear to have title, lien, or other apparent rights to the parcels being foreclosed by the Foreclosing Governmental Unit.

This notice is required to be given by law, even if the party no longer claims or desires an interest if it appears they hold any undischarged, apparent, or potential title or lien right to the property listed.

A listing of a party or person does NOT necessarily indicate that they are the owner of a parcel, or that they are liable for the property taxes.

This list is NOT an offering of property for sale. These parcels are NOT being sold, auctioned, or otherwise made available by virtue of this notice.

There is no procedure for purchasing these parcels from the Foreclosing Governmental Unit at this point in the foreclosure proceedings. Those parcels that are foreclosed and not redeemed may become available at public auction after July of 2011. These parcels remain the property of the current owner until redemption rights have expired. No party or person should make any attempt to inspect or enter upon these parcels assuming them to be for sale. This may constitute trespassing and subject the offender to criminal prosecution. The street address of the parcels listed is based upon local records and is not guaranteed to be the actual location of the property.

The amount due listed indicates the balance which was due as of March 1, 2010. The current amount required to redeem must be obtained from the Crawford County Treasurer, as additional penalties, fees, and interest have accrued since forfeiture.

Grayling Charter Township to hold public hearing on rezoning proposal

Grayling Charter Township will hold a public hearing on Wednesday, January 19, at 11 a.m. in the township hall to hear input and discuss the proposed rezoning of properties on the north side of North Down River Road, that directly face and touch the right-of-way, from Elmwood Cemetery to Roberts Road.

The proposal is to rezone that portion of the road from residential to general commercial, for the road right-of-way to a distance equal to the back of the facing lots, or 210-feet, whichever is less. If this section of the road is rezoned, it will not affect the current status of residential properties in that zone, nor will it raise the taxes of those properties.

Please plan to attend this hearing, or send your comments in writing to: Terry Wright, Supervisor, Grayling Charter Township; PO Box 521; Grayling, MI 49738

"We're getting better in the way we are treating veterans, but we're still not there in the way we should be with disabled veterans," Lennert said. "Personally, I think they're all too often forgotten. I want to do something to shine a little more light on those folks that serve their country and do end up getting disabled as a result."

A loss for a Grayling City resident in late October led to a highlight for the start of the holiday season in Grayling. Mary Beth Brady went without power for four days after a high wind storm ripped through the region on Oct. 26-27. Upon her first day back home, Brady discovered that a beloved blue spruce tree had been uprooted during the storm. After the storm, Dave Stephenson, chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, contacted Grayling city officials to determine if any of the trees that fell in the Elmwood Cemetery would be suitable to use as the Christmas tree in front of Crawford County Courthouse. Although no trees determined to qualify, Chad Beckett, director of Grayling's Department of Public Works, contacted Stephenson and informed him of Brady's tree. Beckett and Brady are neighbors. Brady said it was heartwarming to see her tree up and decorated in time for Grayling's Christmas Walk.
